

PCA Great Performances PRESENTS

a masterclass with MOMIX

for intermediate dancers

Friday, January 25, 2008 10–11:30 am

PATHS (Portland Arts and Technology High School), Portland, Maine

$20 per person, payable with registration $10 audit fee (if space permits)

Have you wondered how Momix comes up with its magical dances? This masterclass will explore how Momix mines materials for inspiration. It includes a warmup, repertory phrases, and guided improvisation. Momix members are part dancers, part athletes, and part illusionists. Bring physicality, a sense of humor, and prepare yourself for an adventure.

SPACE IS LIMITED PRE-REGISTRATION IS REQUESTED FIRST-COME, FIRST-SERVE

Momix is the acclaimed dance company founded by Vermonter Moses Pendleton, now known internationally for their works of exceptional inventiveness and physical beauty. For more than twenty-six years, the company of dancer-illusionists has been celebrated for its ability to conjure up a world of spectacular, surprising, and surrealistic images using props, light, shadow, humor – and, of course, the human body.

Their newest work, Lunar Sea, is an entrancing procession of unearthly dreamlike sequences set in blacklight and punctuated by the glowing, phosphorescent dancers, who appear to defy gravity as if dancing on the moon.
